I deselected a customized standard collection, Activity History shows collection as deleted, why?

Applies to

- Standard WorldCat knowledge base (WCkb) collections that have been customized, then deselected.

Answer

If a standard collection is selected, but you've made customizations to that collection, if you subsequently deselect that same collection, the collection will appear as "collection deleted" in Activity History because those local customizations are attached to the standard collection as if it is a custom collection, so when the standard collection is deselected the system treats it as if a custom collection is being deleted.
