When does the clock start ticking on requests we get from another library?

Last updated: Thu, 01 Nov 2018 18:00:18 GMT

Applies to

• WorldShare ILL
• Tipasa

Answer

The clock starts ticking for the lender when that request is sent to their library.

On the borrower side the clock is ticking when the request is sent.

Each lender on the lender string has the days set in their policies directory.

Additional information

For more information please see Request Aging.

Page ID

14100