How do I add a user to our Digital Collection Gateway?

Last updated: Tue, 14 May 2019 17:02:55 GMT

Applies to

• Digital Collection Gateway

Answer

You can register a user by clicking the Register link from the DCG login page. You may also register your institution here.

The Digital Collection Gateway uses the same authentication system as WorldCat.org, WebJunction, and the WorldCat Registry. If you have a user name and password already registered with one of these systems please enter the e-mail address associated with your existing user name here. If you're re-using your existing Worldcat.org, WebJunction or Worldcat Registry user name, then enter the password for that user name here.

If you're creating a new user name and password please select a password that is at least 3 characters in length. The password can include letters or numbers and must include at least one letter. The password may not contain spaces or the colon (:), semicolon (;), apostrophe (') or quotation(“) characters.

You will also need to input your key so the account is added to the correct Gateway. If you do not know your key, please contact orders@oclc.org with your OCLC symbol.