Approve patrons

You can approve patrons while processing their borrowing request or by searching for their account. Patrons only need to be approved if you turned on patron approval.

- If you turned on patron approval, you will need to approve patrons in order to submit their borrowing requests.
  - If it is their first time placing an interlibrary loan request, their request will appear in the New for Review queue.
  - If a patron needs to be cleared for approval, you will see the question mark icon (❓) on the Patron accordion in the borrowing request next to the patron's name. This indicates the patron's Patron ILL status.
  - Patrons that have not been approved will require an override by staff in order to submit the request.
- If you do not have patron approval turned on, you are not required to approve patrons. All patron requests will be accepted as if they were approved.

You may want to consider blocking patrons who have outstanding loans, fines, or fees. You can block patrons while processing their borrowing request or by searching for their account. Once a patron has been blocked they will no longer be able to submit a request from the user portal.

Note: If you use WorldShare Circulation, this is not the same as a patron being prohibited from performing circulation functions in the system because of the circulation policies you have set up in OCLC Service Configuration.

Note: If you use third party authentication, you must remove them from your authentication service or block them in order to prevent them from submitting requests. Expired patron accounts will still have access to the OCLC system and will be able to place ILL requests.

Turn on patron approval

If you want the ability to approve new interlibrary loan patrons, you must first turn on patron approval in OCLC Service Configuration.

- If patron approval is turned on, you will need to approve patrons in order for interlibrary loan requests to be submitted. Borrowing requests from patrons who are placing interlibrary loan requests for the first time will be routed to the New for Review queue for approval. Any direct requests with a patron that have not been approved or blocked will be stopped and routed to the New for Review queue.
- If patron approval is turned off, all patrons will be treated as if they are approved and staff are not required to take action on patron accounts.

To turn on patron approval:

1. Sign in to Service Configuration.
2. On the left navigation, click WorldShare ILL > Patron Settings.
3. On the Patron Settings screen, under Patron Account Management, select the On check box.
4. Click Save.
