GreenGlass allows single libraries and library groups to explore and visualize their collection in the context of the collective collection, quickly model deselection and print management scenarios, and generate custom reports and lists to support weeding and other collection management activities.

Ready to register your shared print commitments from GreenGlass? See Shared Print Registration service.

• Get started

Get started with GreenGlass.

- Introduction to GreenGlass
- Cataloging questionnaire and code keys
- Data extract

• Use GreenGlass

Find information about the Collection and Analysis tabs in GreenGlass, as well as information about Online Item Lists and Exported Item Lists.

- Collection
- Analysis

• GreenGlass for Groups

Find information for groups using GreenGlass.

- Overview
- Adjust retention commitments
- Post-allocation features
- Retention models

• GreenGlass for Serials

Find information about the Collection and Analysis tabs in GreenGlass, as well as information about Online Item Lists and Exported Item Lists for Serials.

- Serials Collection
• Weeding and deselection bibliography

  No image available

  Find an annotated bibliography of resources for weeding and deselecting materials, compiled by OCLC staff.

• GreenGlass training

  No image available

  Find all training on GreenGlass

• OCLC Community Center: Shared Print community

  No image available

  Find more information about the Community Center. Current Shared Print and GreenGlass product users may join the OCLC Community Center to connect with peers and OCLC staff on product workflows, attend webinars, and provide feedback on the product.